CONTENS

M. Kowalska, G. Cichosz: Dairy products – the best source of CLA ......................... 1

B. Pasyczek: Trans isomers in fat spreads ......................................................... 13

M. Dzięcioł, J. Przysławski: Evaluation of nutritional value and biological activity of selected vegetable oils available in the polish market for their diet – related disease prevention activity 20

K.M. Terlikowska, B. Dobrzycka, A. Witkowska, M.E. Zujko: The assessment of intake of chosen vitamins and minerals provided with the diet among women aged 40-73 in relation to the risk of cardiovascular diseases ................................................................. 27

I. Sergiel, P. Pohl: Selected macro- and microelements in bee honey from lubuskie province .... 33

P. Domaradzki, A. Malik, J. Zdyb: The content of polyphenolic compounds and antioxidant activities of carrot juices .......................................................... 40

E. Rusinek-Prystupa: Content of biologically active compounds in the infusions of different species of tea depending on time of brewing .............................................. 48

A. Salomon, B. Regulska-Ilow: Polish bottled mineral and healing water- characterization and application .............................................................. 53

G. Bortnowska: Health-oriented changes in the composition of powder soups in relation to consumers opinions ................................................................. 66

M. Michalak-Majewska: Evaluation of oxalate content in popular infusions of teas and coffees . 74

M. Polak-Śliwińska, L. Lamejko, M.S. Kubiak: Patulin and 5-HMF content in fruit and vegetable juices from ecological and commercial production ......................... 80

K. Mruczyk, J. Jeszka: Assessment of mycotoxin content in selected food products from the lubuskie province ......................................................... 89

D. Wiechula, M. Doczekalska, A. Pis: Assessment the phytoaccumulation of lead and zinc in medicinal plants from raw herbs cultivation areas in lower silesia ......................... 96
